House Resolution 94 ▼ Glioblastoma Day

On Wednesday, February 15th, marked Glioblastoma Day in memory of Jose Angel Martinez. His son, Jorge Martinez, was in attendance to accept the resolution on his behalf. Jose Angel was diagnosed with a grade 4 glioblastoma, an aggressive type of brain tumor that ultimately took his life. Seeking to achieve his version of the American dream, he raised a family of four, while making minimum wage for most of his adult life. He spent nearly 50 years working with the same farmer and teaching his 4 children, and 9 grandchildren about the values of hard work, self-reliance, and being a contributing member of society.

McAllen Day at the Capitol ◀

This week, City of McAllen officials visited the Capitol and celebrated McAllen Day. Legislative office visits occurred throughout the day with a successful evening reception. A great part of our culture was exposed at the Capitol with the attendance of the UTRGV folkloric dancers. We would like to thank the City of McAllen for visiting their State Capitol.
